5. IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR REMOTE PARTICIPATION:

Technical Infrastructure

The Company ensures, to the extent reasonably possible, that the technical infrastructure for remote participation in the Meeting is properly in place, secured and accessible for its shareholders with compatible devices. The Company will make use of reputable third parties for providing the technical infrastructure and support required for conducting the Meeting.

The online platform hosting the Meeting will be provided by Beernink Productions VO (the Third-Party Agent).

Shareholders should be aware that there will always be certain residual risks in relation to the technical infrastructure used for remotely held meetings. These risks include, amongst others: any failure in meeting equipment, software, network infrastructure, servers, internet or telephone connectivity, video or voice equipment, whether or not caused by an information security incident (which includes any unauthorized use, hacking, a denial of services attack, a denial of access, any failure or intrusion resulting from the theft or unlawful interception of a password or network access code and any other cyber-attack) or caused by any type of mechanical failure such as any electrical power outage during the Meeting.

To avoid such risks, it is recommended for shareholders to exercise their voting rights and their right to ask questions before the Meeting. The failure of technology may occur either on the side of the Company

(and/or the Third-Party Agent) or of the shareholders. If any of these risks prevent a shareholder from following the Meeting, voting electronically during (any part of) the Meeting and submit questions during the Meeting, then neither the Company nor the Third-Party Agent will be responsible for this. The inability of one or more shareholders to follow the Meeting, vote electronically during (any part of) the Meeting and submit questions during the Meeting does not affect the validity of the Meeting or any business conducted at the Meeting.

The technical infrastructure will be implemented in a timely manner before the Meeting in order to allow shareholders to test their access and to verify that they would be able to participate remotely in the Meeting. The Company will take all reasonable efforts to keep technical support lines available for its shareholders. In case of technical issues, shareholders must contact ABN AMRO at ava@nl.abnamro.com or +31 (0)20 344 2000.

The shareholders may inform the Company of any failure of the technical infrastructure via the aforementioned technical support lines. Any failure in meeting equipment, software, network infrastructure, servers, internet or telephone connectivity, an electrical power outage or similar events, including an information security incident (which includes any unauthorized use, hacking, a denial of services attack, a denial of access, any failure or intrusion resulting from the theft or unlawful interception of a password or network access code and any other cyber-attack), that might prevent remote participation in the Meeting, will in any event be at the risk and to the account of such shareholder.
